

The Traveling Black Women Network

The Traveling Black Women® Network is a travel network that has been curated to increase the representation of Black female travelers in international tourism and travel. Our network seeks to support novice and experienced travelers with a variety of resources as well as opportunities for engagement, connection, and communication.

280K+

UNIQUE VISITORS
MONTHLY

100.3K+

WEEKLY IMPRESSIONS

37.5K+

SUSCRIBERS

140+

MAILING LIST

You can find us in....

f 18.8K+ @TravelingBlackWomen

ig 14.6K+ @TravelingBlackWomen

tw 120+ @trvlng_blk_wmn

TBW Network Curator

NADINE C. DUNCAN is the founder of the Traveling Black Women Network. She is the author of the original Diary of a Traveling Black Woman: A Guide to International Travel and Dubai, Abu Dhabi, and the 5 Other Emirates You Didn't Know About. Nadine endeavors to build a network that allows Black women feel safe, empowered, and informed to travel outside of their comfort zone.

INFO@TRAVELINGBLACKWOMEN.COM

Audience

89% WOMEN

80% 18-44 YEARS OLD

93% BLACK/AFRICAN-AMERICAN

Travel Resources

• Travel Guides

• Travel Agents

• Merchandise

• Tour Suppliers